VISION SUMMIT
feb 5 & 6, 2007 | hyderabad

India Semiconductor Association (ISA) is the premier national trade body representing the semiconductor industry in India. As a representative of global and domestic organizations, ISA's vision is to establish India as the preferred global hub for excellence in creation of semiconductor products through technology leadership. A not-for-profit body, ISA leads the development of industry driven standards and initiatives for the semiconductor industry in India. The association aims at creating a distinct identity for the semiconductor industry and build a collaborative relationship between semiconductor companies, government, academic, venture capitalists and industry bodies.

Striking the right chord

India Semiconductor Association presents Vision Summit 2007, an exclusive business conference for the electronics design industry. The two-day conclave will provide an international platform to exchange ideas and set the vision for the coming year. The theme of this year's conference will be centered around India's standing in the electronics ecosystem and its impact in the global arena.

Global Competitiveness: India as a key player in the electronics eco-system

The conference will focus and debate on the factors determining global competitiveness from various perspectives. It would take a close look at India and other geographies. Prominent speakers will expound on the impact of innovation, research & design, collaborations, market demand and other key factors in the electronics eco-system.
